Closing USO Would Create Serious Problem

Jim Cooke, member of the Monterey Peninsula USO Advisory Council, and actively interested in the work of the Carmel U. S. O. since its founding, has written the following letter to the editor, which we are printing here because it reflects not only our own feelings but the opinion of Carmel at large about the projected closing of the Carmel U. S. O.

Mr. Cooke says:

"It was just last October that the National War Fund Drive was made and at that time it was stated that a part of the money was to be used to run the Carmel USO for the year 1946. The people of Carmel gave generously, and now we have reached only May, 1946, and the first steps have been taken to close Carmel USO. Failure to use the money that the people gave for the purpose they gave it is an abuse of trust. How can USO ever ask the people of Carmel again for money if such a thing is done?"

"How can they close the Carmel USO when we have no recreation for the service men after sun down, and there will be hundreds of them every day when the men arrive at Fort Ord. We know the men are to arrive there in large numbers on the word of General Stilwell, who says: 'From a military point of view, I am particularly anxious to keep the Carmel USO Club open. A large military population is anticipated at Fort Ord, and a club at Carmel would be justified. I believe the USO in Carmel has been and still is an important factor in good order displayed by military personnel in this area.'"

"Carmel police department is concerned over the problem that will be presented when there are four or five hundred men on our streets after dark with no place to go, and the city council does not want the Carmel USO closed until other facilities are available to care for these four or five hundred soldiers."

"In view of these facts, the USO Committee of Field Operations should work something out in favor of the Carmel USO."

Carmel Teachers To Pass Petition For State Amendment

Meetings were held Thursday at the Carmel High School and Sunset of the Carmel Class Room Teachers' Association to lay plans for the circulation of initiative petition for an constitutional amendment to be placed on the ballot for the November 9 election, that will guarantee a minimum wage of $2400 per year for teachers throughout the state.

Charles Dawson heads the petition committee, and citizens in Carmel will be asked next week to sign the petition.

"It will not effect teacher salaries in Carmel since our teachers are already receiving more than the proposed minimum, but it is for the general good of the public schools throughout the state,"

Everybody Helps To Rig Lights On Sunset Playfield

Sunday night, for the first time in its history, Carmel had a lighted playfield. There was no advance notice that Sunset north playfield was to be equipped with lights, because nobody, even those most actively concerned, knew for sure that it could be done at this time. But no notice was needed. The minute the Carmel Pine Cone Softball team, the bunch that engineered the job, turned on the lights, kids came flocking like moths. In no time, the crack of bat on ball resounded from all corners of the field, and boys and girls from ten on up were yelling and running, satisfying the age-old longing of the young to get out into the exciting night and play.

When the Pine Cone Softball club set out to get lights for the field last week, the members were trying to find a way so that they could have more time for practice after work in the evening, but they were also aware that the kids would benefit as well as they. For that reason, they have not only got more satisfaction out of the time and labor they have put into the project, but they have received the whole-hearted support of Carmel citizens, some of whom have donated labor, equipment and materials, others who have offered to help pay for the lights. The school board will also assist with the expenses out of summer recreation project funds.

At Thursday noon $157.00 had been donated, one firm giving $50. All those wishing to contribute should get in touch with Orval Butts, at Bud's Richfield Station, San Carlos and Fifth, or send their check to Orval Butts, Box 145. Next issue of the Pine Cone will have a complete list of the donors.

Aside from the actual cost of the lights, all labor and installation equipment has been donated.

Gene Ricketts, Harold Studevant and Bud Butts drove to San Francisco.

Council Plans Major Street Improvements

The city council members will meet this week informally with the city attorney and Howard F. Cozzens, county engineer, next week to draw up a tentative plan for major street improvements.

They will go into the question of grading and drainage, as well as surfacing, attempting to draw up a plan for the entire town rather than the street by street approach that has been the policy in former years.

Another question that will be under consideration is how much to ask the state in matching funds. "Just because we can get, say, $25,000 is no reason why we should ask for it," says Mayor Fred Godwin, who points out that though Carmel has money put up to match with state money, there is a question as to how best the local money can be spent. "It might be better to put up only $15,000 and ask the State for $15,000, and use the other $10,000 to buy a fire engine instead of floating a bond issue for it. Nothing has been decided yet. We will study the problems from all sides, and nothing will be done in a hurry nor without plenty of advance information to the public."

PAPER COLLECTION

There will be a waste paper collection in Carmel this Saturday and for several Saturdays thereafter under the auspices of the Sea Scouts, who will use the money derived from sale of the paper to defray the expense of buying uniforms.

All those who have paper to donate should phone Mrs. E. H. Hill, 1570-W, so that she can notify the Sea Scouts to pick it up in a truck Saturday.

The local Sea Scout group is sponsored by the American Legion Post 512, with Cyrus Johnson, chairman. Robert Van Ostrand is Sea Scout leader.

1100 Acre Adams Ranch Sold To Frank Porter

Sale of the 1100-acre Muriel Vanderbilt Adams ranch in Carmel Valley to Frank Porter and his son, Paul F. Porter, of Robles Del Rio, was announced this week. Purchase price was not disclosed, but it was believed to be in the neighborhood of $200,000.

The ranch house and out buildings were re-sold by the new purchasers for a guest ranch, but because details of the sale are not completed the name of the party was not divulged.

About 400 acres of the main ranch, road frontage property, will be subdivided by the Porters and placed on the market. These parcels will be one acre and up, and work on roads and surveying has already begun.

The bulk of the ranch has also been resold by the Porters, but the name of this buyer, as well, was not disclosed.

It is understood that the Monterey County Planning Commission has received an application for the establishment of a hotel-guest ranch on the property, and this application was filed in the name of Mrs. Adams. Hearing on the subject will be held at the regular meeting of the commission of May 27.

The ranch was originally the property of the Pacific Improvement Company, which later became the Del Monte Properties Company, and was maintained for many years as a vacation spot for guests from Hotel Del Monte. It was later purchased by S. C. Fertig who, in turn, sold it to Mrs. Adams.

The transaction was the largest to take place in the fast-growing Carmel area in some time.

ELECTION TODAY

The Annual Election for members of the Board of Trustees of the Carmel Unified School District is being held at Sunset School. Mrs. Anita Dormody is standing unopposed for re-election. Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. During these hours, bars and liquor dispensing departments of retail stores are prohibited by law from conducting business.

Though Mrs. Dormody is unopposed, her fellow school board members and her many friends have expressed the hope that there will be a generous complimentary vote as an expression of appreciation for the conscientious service she has given the community during her previous term on the board.

John P. Collins Wins Pine Cone Poetry Contest

BY DORA HAGEMEYER, PINE CONE POETRY EDITOR

Now that the entries have returned from our judges, we are happy to announce that the first prize in our poetry contest goes to John P. Collins of Carmel for two poems, Sonnet Written After the Liberation of Southern Holland, and First Meeting. Both poems were so outstanding that it was difficult to judge between them, so it was decided to name them both for first place.

The second prize goes to Thirza Martin of Pasadena for The Sea Returns, and the two third prizes go to Blanche DeGood Lofton of Portland, Oregon, for Chinook Squaw and to Eve Triem of Dubuque, Iowa, for Nobody Dies in the Summer.

Special mention goes to Amelia Snyder McIntyre for Poem for the Very Young. This is an exceptionally fine piece of work but it was disqualified by its length. It will be published in The Pine Cone later on, and some especially printed copies of the poem will be sent to the author.

Honorable mention goes to Kathryn E. Scoville of San Francisco for Only the Wind's Dark Fingers, and also to Gordon W. Norris of Los Angeles for Prayer of the Verdugos.

The quality of the material sent in to the contest was quite good. Entries came from all over the country and many well-known names were among them. It is the first time that a Carmel poet has won a prize in our contests and we are particularly proud of the quality of the winning poems this year. As one of our judges wrote: "The images are fresh and enduring... there is no straining for effect. There is integrity of expression of an experience vitally realized in its immediacy and its potentiality." The Liberation Sonnet appears at the head of our poetry column this week, and First Meeting will appear next week. We feel that anyone in the literary world today might be proud to have written these two poems. There are modern yet timeless. We are convinced that their author has a future ahead of him if he fulfills the promise of his present work.

The winner of the second prize, Thirza Martin, is to be complimented for a poem which is essentially Californian. The fragrance of wildflowers, of desert and hill and ravine comes freshly from these lines, recalling moments of high joy among the spring moods of this beautiful land. Thirza Martin.

CAMERA RECOVERED

A $75 camera belonging to the Severns Radio Shop, which was stolen from the Lucky Boy Market display window on March 17, was recovered by Carmel Police Monday when a fifteen-year-old boy attempted to dispose of it through McKay's in Monterey.

The boy and five other youths who were associated with him were turned over to juvenile authorities. He is a resident of Ord Village.

TEA FOR SILLIMAN

A tea honoring James P. Silliman, Republican candidate for state assemblyman, will be held this afternoon at 3:30 at Normandy Inn.

Duck W Rolls Up And Down Beach On Navy Project

The 7½ ton duck W, W meaning with wheels, that has been disturbing the peace of the migratory curlews on Carmel beach for the past three weeks, is part of the equipment for a Waves Observation Bureau of Ships project, and will probably continue to run in and out of the surf during the daytime, and trudge up Ocean Avenue hill to take shelter in the Holm's Garage at night, for the next three months.

It is manned by Willard Bascom and his crew. They are working for the University of California, which is working on contract for the U. S. Navy.

Now that amphibious operations have become a matter of moment in the affairs of the Navy, that branch of the service is evincing an increasing interest in beaches, what makes them the way they are and, especially, how they change.

Dr. M. P. O'Brien, Dean of the College of Engineering at the University of California, proved to be the man best equipped to find out what the Navy wanted to know about Pacific Coast beaches, so the University of California was delegated to send out an expedition complete with engineers, surveyors, photographers, and duck.

All the beaches from Seattle to San Diego have come in for their share of study, but Carmel beach will command more time and attention because, "It is a very sensitive beach," according to Bascom. During the summer months, tons of sand are piled onto the beach until its entire contour is changed. In the winter the sand is swept out again and the rocky backbone exposed, until the natives wonder if they haven't lost their beach for good. These extremes of change are of especial interest to the Navy, so for the next three months, Carmel beach and bay will be surveyed, mapped, sounded, photographed both in stills and in movies, until the expedition has a complete story of what happens day by day to the shore under the influences of tide and waves.

Off and on during the summer, the crew will also work in Monterey Bay, at Fort Ord beach, and at the Carmel River mouth.

In addition to Bascom, the expedition personnel consists of Duke Conway, photographer first class, borrowed from the Navy, Red Goodwin, Bill Lloyd, and John Knight.

Dr. O'Brien and several Naval officers are expected here this week end on a visit to check on the progress of the work.

SPORTING NOTES...

C. P. C. SOFTBALL

Carmel Pine Cone Softball Club won its third practice game in a row Tuesday night, beating Peninsula Taxi 10-3. The preceding Thursday Pine Cone took Del Monte Navy 5-2. In all three games, Coach George Mosolf has followed the policy of giving his three first string pitchers an equal chance to work out, allowing them each a brace of innings on the mound.

The local team opened Tuesday night's game—the first to be played under lights in Carmel—with a hitting spree, getting five runs off Buddy Wilson of Peninsula Taxi, while the visitors were able to collect only one hit in the first two innings off Jay Huffman. Ray Gumm, replacing Huffman, gave the Pine Cone outfield a chance to warm up while the club from over the hill collected three runs.

When Ky Miyomoto took over the mound, he not only held Peninsula Taxi to four hits but collected a home run, his fourth score during the game—he played second base until called to relieve Gumm—four hits, four runs out of four times at bat.

Carmel Pine Cone plays a practice game with Live Oak Grocery at Sunset playfield tonight at 8:00 p.m.

ABALONE DOUBLE-HEADER

Terrific is the name for Severns. Pitching against the Shamrocks, he allowed only six hits and one run, while his Pilots collected 25 hits off the Shamrock's Allen Knight and scored 14 runs. All this happened in the second half of the Abalone League double header last Sunday at the high school field, and everybody had a wonderful time, including the badly walloped but always hopeful Shamrocks.

DeAmaral collected the lone tally for the Shamrocks. Those lucky enough to pick up hits off Severns were DeAmaral, Allen Knight, Neill, Hilton, Cook and Allene Knight.

Heavy hitting Pilots were Ansel, 2 hits, 2 runs; Severns, 4 hits, 2 runs; King, 2 and 2; Ky Miyomoto, 4 hits, 3 runs; Jim Kelsey, 4 hits, 2 runs; Studevant, 4 hits, 1 run; Mike Ricketts, 1 hit; Butts, 2 hits, 1 run; Aldrich, 1 and 1.

"They had us scared," said Ernie Morehouse, pitcher for the Tigers who defeated the Giants, 7-2, in the first Abalone League game Sunday. "Kelsey's bunch was loaded down with a bunch of heavy hitting substitutes, but I had wonderful support."

Kelsey's "heavy hitting substitutes" managed to collect only ten hits off Morehouse's pitching. Morehouse's league leading Tigers picked up 21 hits off Kelsey. Their record: Timbers, 4 hits, 1 run; Morehouse, 3 hits; Aldrich, 2 hits; Harget 3 hits, 1 run; Nicholson, 2 hits, 1 run; Handley, 2 hits, 1 run; Neill, 3 hits, 2 runs; Bruce, 1 and 1; Butts 1 hit.

Giants garnering hits: J. Kelsey 3 hits, 1 run; King, 2 hits, 1 run; Ivan Kelsey, 1 hit; Studevant, 1 hit; Vandervoort, 1 hit; Roberts, 1 hit; Ansel, 1 hit.

This Sunday the last two scheduled Abalone League games will be played, Tigers vs. Pilots at 1 p.m., and Shamrocks vs. Giants following.

Sunday, May 26, two games that were rained out will be played: Tigers vs. Giants, first, and then Shamrocks vs. Pilots.

BASSLER COPS PENINSULA OPEN

BY F. SHEA

Bespectacled Newt Bassler of Carmel fired a sizzling par 72 at Del Monte Sunday morning and was one over par at the 17th hole in the afternoon round to defeat George Parker of Monterey 2 and 1 to win the Bud Brownell Trophy and the Monterey Peninsula Open Golf Championship.

Bassler was 1 up after the first eighteen and increased his lead to 3 holes by the 27th. He retained this advantage until the 31st, which he dropped by three-putting, they halved the 32nd, and Bassler lost the 33rd when he badly miscalculated a chip.

The real climax came on the 34th hole, when the combination of George's bad luck and Newt's fine putting prevented the Monterey fairway-splitter from putting things even. Both slammed out good drives; Bassler hit a poor second which wound up about 60 feet short of the pin; Parker's ball landed pin high and bounced to the far edge of the green, approximately 35 feet from the hole. Newt's chip was poor, coming to rest some 15 feet short. George stroked a beautiful putt which hit the cup and jumped out. Bassler, with pressure really on, tanked his putt to retain his 1 up lead.

Parker pulled his shot on 35 into a trap, while Bassler smashed his on the green. George exploded from a buried lie to within 5 feet of the cup. Newt putted up for his three, and Parker missed his putt to lose the match, 2 and 1.

A large gallery followed the pair around the links, and were certainly pleased with the fine golf they witnessed. It was still a match until the 35th hole, and those final holes proved a thrilling climax for an exciting contest. Bassler had bought a half interest in himself in the Calcutta Pool held at the Elks Lodge prior to the match play round.

Study Of Feather Display, Courtship Habits, Habitats, Provide Adventure To Bird Watchers—Laidlaw Williams

BY L. L. TURNER

One need not go to far lands for adventure, Laidlaw Williams, ornithologist and national recognized authority on Monterey Peninsula birds, told his audience on Monday night at the forum lectures at Sunset School auditorium. In the study of birds and their habits there are many fascinating discoveries to be made in one's own back yard.

California has such a variety of climate and locale, from desert to swamp and from sea level to high mountains that many species of birds may be observed in the state. Careful study of the life and habits of familiar birds may bring to light hitherto unknown facts and add materially to scientific knowledge and contribute to the understanding of birds.

After describing the display activities of the male hummingbird, which swoops in an arc like a dive bomber during the mating season, Mr. Williams said scientists are not sure of the purpose of this display, as it is presented as often over males as females. Patient observation and study may give the answer.

Another interesting line for local bird watchers is noting the different habitats of the bird communities. The first habitat is the open ocean several miles off shore. There the black-footed albatross appears in summer, a thrilling sight with his eight-foot wingspread, gliding close to the surface of the water, rising to just skim the crest of the wave, dropping down into the trough between the crests.

The sooty sheerwater is a denizen of the zone nearer shore; bred in sub-antarctic area, it migrates up the Pacific coast clear to the arctic circle, and up the Atlantic to Greenland. They are seen off shore here in August and September. In the third zone, the rocky shore, may be seen the oyster-catcher, with his chisel-like red bill prying limpets off the rocks, he seldom is seen on the sand beach. But the Hudson curlew frequent the sand. Inshore are the mud-flats, with their characteristic birds. Next come the open fields, then the brush-covered field, then the river bottom lands with a covering of weeds, finally large live-oak and pine areas.

These, then, are the easily available studies for those interested in birds: plumage and its uses, habitats, and migrations. Out of the latter grew the practice of bird-banding, which Mr. Williams discussed at some length. Banding is done under auspices of the Department of the Interior, and much has been learned about the movement of various species in the different seasons. By color banding one may study individual birds and their habits. Over a period of five years Mr. Williams studied the Brewer blackbird on Carmel Point, noting the birds returning with the same mate year after year. Some males, however, are bigamous, and raise two families with different mates, slightly overlapping as to periods, enabling the male to do his share of feeding both families of young.

A set of beautiful still pictures which the ornithologist took here on the peninsula in the course of his observations were shown at the close of the lecture.

Before the lecture Mr. John Westover, adult school principal, announced the last forum program, to be held the evening of May 29. It is a travelogue of colored moving pictures of Mexico and Lower California, including the new volcano, Paracutin. In the lobby at that time will be a display of products of the adult classes in art, photography, shop work in wood and ceramics.

CIVIL CASE SET

June 4 has been set as the date for the trial of the civil suit brought by Mrs. Willette Goodlett and Mrs. DeRath Collins, San Francisco, against Robert Harnish, proprietor of Normandy Inn.

The plaintiffs, both negroes, are seeking to recover $200 each damage because, they allege, Harnish discriminated against them by reason of race, when they attempted to eat dinner at his restaurant.

Case will be heard in Judge Ray Baugh's Court in Monterey.

Slight Increase In Delinquent Tax List This Issue

This issue of the Pine Cone carries the delinquent tax list for the City of Carmel, with a total of $177.15 delinquency. Total taxes to collect this year was $57,546.50; collected $56,773.35, leaving a delinquency of 1.3435% according to figures compiled by Tax Collector Tom Hefling. Since delinquent taxes for 1945 amounted to .9676 per cent, delinquencies for this year are .3759 per cent greater than last year.

Monterey, with a total of $214,466.30 to collect has taken in $212,690.70 to date leaving a delinquency of .84 percent, slightly higher than last year's .64 percent.

Pacific Grove, with a total of $103,151.16 to collect has taken in $102,794.16, leaving $357 to collect or .35 percent.

Elizabeth Cass New President For Carmel PTA

Mrs. Elizabeth Cass was elected President of the Carmel Parent-Teachers Association at its annual meeting Tuesday at Sunset School. Mrs. Ernest Bixler was named Vice President and Program Chairman, Mrs. Thomas Elston, Treasurer, Mrs. Julien von Meier, recording secretary, and Mrs. Elizabeth Graves, Corresponding Secretary.

It was an unusually lovely and inspiring meeting. The lunchroom was decorated in spring flowers, and the walls were ornamented by the work of the Sunset and high school art students.

The change in atmosphere was especially noted by Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger, first president of Carmel's P. T. A., and one of the speakers. Twenty years ago the P. T. A. had quite a time getting the first Steinway piano for the small building, she said. And it wasn't easy to acquaint the school and community with one another. Other problems were organizing a cafeteria, and dances for the youngsters. Tenth president, Mrs. Claire Kellogg, also told of her term in office. The building was still cold, lacking cheery decorations, and the present library room.

At the business meeting Superintendent Leo Harris asked for information concerning houses, needed for new faculty members. Mr. George Mosolf announced the summer recreational program will start June 24. Mrs. L. R. Blinks reported on the work during the past year of the Child Welfare Clinic and announced the Pre-School Round-up scheduled for May 23. Mr. Hull urged all the people to sign the petition, coming out soon, for an initiative setting a minimum wage for teachers of $2400 yearly and incorporating the kindergarten with the State School system. At present the latter is financed by the community.

Many amused chuckles were heard in the audience when the Carmel P.T.A. by-laws (after 20 years) were moved and passed to be adopted.

The musical arrangements afforded the audience an opportunity to hear the same solo numbers previously entered in the San Jose Music Festival last week by the Carmel High School students. Under Mrs. Alta Dale's supervision Basil Allaire and Douglas Calley played separate numbers, from Handel, on their violins, accompanied by Mrs. Dale and Ann Rigdon. Elton Clark played the French Horn, which proved an unusual treat.

Dr. Virginia Cobb, pediatrician in Carmel, delighted the crowd with her own viewpoint on Psychological Problems of the Younger Child. She asserted, "No baby is born a problem. It is simply born, and must solve the problems confronting it . . . Environment is most important in a child's life, in which the parent plays a major role. Problems with children too often result from the parent trying to push the child into his own accomplishments. When the child rebels, bad habits are started."

Should a child be spanked? To this Dr. Cobb affirmed, "Yes. A spanking is all right if not done in a momentary burst of irritation. Punishment should be kept at a minimum, and there should be no long lectures . . . Do not insist on obedience for its own sake, and do not make idle threats. A child's security is realized when discipline is regular from day to day and when parents present a united front . . . Most important of all is that a child should be loved for himself, rather than what he accomplishes, and he must be made part of the family group. He must be given chores to do that prove he is needed."

SUNSET SCHOOL NOTES

Miss McLaughlin's First Grade.

We have a starfish, a couple of hermit crabs, two chitons, some snails, and a tidepool fish in our marine aquarium. Mrs. McCausland got them for us.

—Peter Mitchell.

My family and I went to Pt. Lobos and had a weenie roast. My little sister thought she saw a rock but, when she picked it up, it was a crab. It pricked her.

—Anne McClain.

We have to feed our kitten from a baby bottle. It spills milk all over itself.

—Elizabeth Barlow.

I'm going to the May Parade in Palo Alto. There will be children, pets, and tops of all kinds in it. We are going to stay in a hotel.

—Eleanor Walk.

In two more days we are going to San Francisco.

—Tommy Hagar.

Miss Henderson's Kindergarten.

"Yesterday I went down a steep hill in my wagon and went 20 miles in 50 hours."

—Ricky Ameil.

"Did you know that I'm getting a Spanish accent?"

—Bart Ehman.

"That's nothing, I'm getting an electric train!"

—John Moffett.

"Yesterday I went to the beach and stayed in the water the whole time and didn't get drowned."

—Michael Beale.

"I know all about that Cinderella story. It's about a little girl whose mother wouldn't let her go to the baseball game."

—Patricia Elston.

"I saw a squirrel dead in the street and it probably got hit by a car and that's why you have to look to see if there's a car or you'll be like the squirrel."

—Gary Lynn Bever.

"We know lots about sea shells. We know olive shells and mussels and limpets and clams and abalones and sand dollars and sea urchins."

—Laurel Martin.

Miss Uzzell's Fourth Grade.

In Science we are studying starfish and other sea animals. Donnie Leidig brought a starfish to school. The teacher showed us all the parts. On the end of each ray or arm is an eye. Underneath in the middle is its mouth. When it wants to eat it pushes out its stomach.

There is another kind of starfish that is called the Brittle. When it snaps off, the starfish will grow a new one.

—Don Martin.

All the classes in Sunset School are making things for the Carnival on May 24. Our room is making little birds and butterflies out of small pine and redwood cones. We are making little insects out of seeds.

The booth for the Fourth Grades is going to have bright colored paper and streamers that we used at the Dance Festival on April 10.

—Howard Taggart.

The last day in April my Dad and I went fishing at Big Sur. We hiked back in the mountains for about four miles and then I went swimming for about an hour.

It was very cold in the night and we only had two blankets. One was on the ground and we lay on it. We only had one blanket to cover us.

We got fourteen fish. It was fun.

—Ward Dolan.

On May 24 there is going to be a May Carnival. Every class is going to make something to sell. The children in the Fourth Grades are going to make little birds and other things out of pine cones.

Anyone can come that wants to. There will be lots of things to do and see.

—Catherine Triplet.

On May 24 Sunset School is going to hold a Carnival at the lower play field. There are going to be things to buy, also there is going to be a small orchestra to play.

The two fourth grades are going to work together. We are going to decorate our booth with our banners we used for the Grand March broadening service on the Pacific Coast

In 1946 alone, on the Pacific Coast, millions of dollars worth of long distance equipment will be installed—some 200,000 miles of new circuits, for example... vacuum tube systems that boost the number of calls present wires can handle.

This is a part of our unprecedented $400,000,000 five-year program to provide an ever expanding, ever improving telephone service here on the Coast.

Yes, we are on our way to providing a broader, faster, long distance service than you ever thought possible. For it is our purpose to grow with the West and help the West grow in every way we can.

Arthur Bellick's Book Scheduled For Fall Publication

Arthur Bellick has returned to his home on San Carlos, (he hopes his stay will be permanent) after five weeks in New York, Boston, Washington, D. C. and Andover, Massachusetts. The trip was made to arrange for publication of a combat history of his overseas regiment, an amphibious assault unit of the Third Engineers Special Brigade.

The book will be published at the end of this year by Andover Press and will be called Sand And Sea.

This unit will be remembered by Carmel residents for its invasion by boat on Carmel beach and its encampment there in the summer of 1943.

Mr. Bellick's arrangements with the publishers were made with his commanding officer, Col. Robert Armory, Jr., who, with his charming wife, will be remembered here.

COUNTY TREASURER HERE

Russell W. Giles, County Treasurer, opposed for the first time in twelve years in the coming election, was in town Wednesday calling on friends and supporters, one of the most enthusiastic of whom is Judge George P. Ross. Mr. and Mrs. Giles have made their home in Pacific Grove for many years.

What is it that every kid in town is waiting for and talking about? Where will it be? When?

The answer is the Parent-Teacher's Association Sunset School Carnival, to be held on the Sunset playgrounds next Friday, May 24, from 2 to 5 p.m. Adult Carmel residents are helping out, as well as the youngsters. Each classroom at Sunset is contributing something very special to the gala event. Miss Henderson's kindergartners are working mighty hard on hobby horses to sell in their booth, and Miss Uzzell's fourth graders are just as conscientious in fashioning their pine cone novelties to sell.

Everyone is invited. And it gives one a warm feeling inside in realizing that after the necessary P.T.A. expenses are met, the entire proceeds of the affair will be donated to the relief of starving children overseas.

Enthusiastic support has been given from all sides. Lloyd Weer will be the official M.C. of the Carnival. He will announce the visiting notables. And dedicating his services to the official Carnival Police Force will be the honorable Mayor Fred Gowin. Unanimously elected to hold the titled position of Carnival Clown is that Charles Childers. Allen Knight will M.C. the Variety Show. Robert Brown will sell tickets.

While the parents hurry over to the Food Sale, there will be plenty to keep the children busy. They'll find soda pop, candy, ponies, fish pond, puppet show, flowers, and enough for them to talk about for weeks to come. Imagine real live freaks, a snake charmer, a two headed man, and an armless girl!

The Variety Show, they say, is so super that it will be given twice! At 4 p.m. the kids will get their tickets and pass right in, and in the evening at 8 p.m. the grown-ups will be privileged to see this same de luxe, extra special professional talent brought to Sunset Auditorium. Mrs. Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand, assisted by Mr. R. C. Doerr, is justly proud of this Show,

DINING ROOM OPENS
Gallatin's, the newest dining room to be opened around here, will have a preview dinner tonight to a selected list of guests and the official opening will be tomorrow. Owner is Gallatin Powers, son of the late Frank Powers of Carmel, and the place is at Bixby Bridge, 15 miles down the Big Sur highway. Luncheons, dinners and Sunday breakfasts will be served in the large redwood room which overlooks the Pacific.

which will climax the famous Sunset Carnival.

Helping Mrs. Rigdon with the program will be Mesdames Julien von Meier and G. H. Burnette, food sale; Stuart Montmorency, ponies; Jack Martin, publicity; Howard Timbers, fish pond; and Evelyn Hildebrand, variety show. Carol Joyce and Laurel Dell Hildebrand will take sole responsibility for the puppet show. These youngsters also put on a puppet show at the M.C.T.A. at their annual banquet, held at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club last week.

Save your pennies, children, it's just a week away. And grownups, you're in on it too. So, with a weather eye out for the Carnival Deputy Sheriff, P. A. McCreery, let's go and have the time of our lives.

Have You Read . . . ?

BY ELOISE CARWYLE

I came upon an old book the other day that fascinated me. It was published in London in 1888: The Life of Mrs. Catherine Clive, With an Account of Her Adventures On and Off the Stage, a Round of Her Characters, Together With Her Correspondence. The author is one Percy Fitzgerald, an Oxonian eminent in his day, the biographer of Garrick and of others well known in the 18th century world of fashion and the theatre.

This Mrs. Clive was the celebrated Kitty Clive, the comedy queen of Drury Lane, who contributed so much to the gaiety of the nation in the days when David Garrick was actor-manager at that famous playhouse. Her "adventures", referred to in the lengthy title, prove to be very tame indeed; even to call them adventures creates a smile. She seems to have been generally commended for good character, hard work, integrity in her attitude toward her professional obligations; and she was kept very busy looking after a lot of indigent relatives. There is nothing to indicate an after-us-the-deluge disposition.

Though of an excellent heart, she was quarrelsome at times about her place in the theatre and the roles she wanted. As an actress she could hardly be called eccentric because of that. Peg Woffington was one rival, and Mrs. Cibber another. Kitty and Mrs. Cibber both desired greatly the part of Polly Peachum in The Beggar's Opera, which was then almost as new as Oklahoma. After a struggle, Mrs. Cibber won out. It is true she was much better suited to the part; but there were other battles in which injustice seems to have been Kitty's portion.

She was happily cast as the 'fine lady' in Lethe, a Dramatic Satire, — a play of Garrick's, in which she appeared opposite the talented Woodward as the Beau. In these characters they so delighted all playgoers the two were represented in exquisite little figures of Bow china, modeled with spirited grace and charm, rare specimens of that porcelain. Kitty wears the voluminous petticoat and furbelows of the period, and Woodward is in satin knee breeches, lace-frilled coat, and cocked hat.

In April of 1769, aged fifty-eight and at the height of her powers, Kitty made her last stage appearance, a momentous farewell, with Garrick playing one of his best parts; and then she retired to her house at Twickenham, near Strawberry Hill, where she continued to live with her brother, 'Jemmy' Rafter, until her death in 1785. She enjoyed herself immensely and enlivened the neighbors considerably. Her old friend, Miss Pope, came in the summer recess for lengthy sojourns. They saw much of Horace Walpole and Sir John Hawkins and his daughter. Sir John, you remember, was that distinguished musicologist, sometime rival of Dr. Burney. Later the Garricks, retired to Hampton, were almost neighbors. Other friends were near, and there were many gay gatherings.

But in this old book I am most delighted with the letters Kitty wrote. It seems she was notorious as a bad speller, and there is amusing evidence of it; but what matters a misspelled word—or even a lapse in grammar—when there is spontaneity, vivacity, and charm?

Even before Garrick's retirement from the stage in 1776, he and Mrs. Garrick were often at their Hampton estate and were so much a part of the village that Garrick became churchwarden. Kitty received the news with hilarity, and rallying him upon his new duties:

"I screamed at your parish business. I think I see you in your churchwardenship . . . but for heaven's sake never think of being a justice of the peace, for the people will quarrel on purpose to be brought before you to hear you talk, so that you may have as much business upon the lawn as you had upon the boards . . .

If I should live to be thawed, I will come to town on purpose to kiss you; and in the summer,

SONNET WRITTEN AFTER THE LIBERATION OF SOUTHERN HOLLAND

*Limburg! No more to hunger underground;
To feel the gargoyle fear crash through the arch
And window of your soul. For now the march
Of tyranny hangs on the wind a whimpered sound.*

*Your children bloom like flowers from your wounds;
And artists spread their dreams like wings
Over the ruins and the dead. A soldier sings
Of peace along your streets where exiled hearts are bound
To home by friendly eyes.*

We, who are sick with war

*And have been lonely, spring from the thick
Of darkness with your Spring. Here is revealed
To us the future's seed. Across your fields,
Whirled through the web of love and memory,
Our loved ones run to us—in freedom, free!*

—JOHN P. COLLINS.

THE SEA RETURNS

*The sea in blue rain floods the thirsty hills;
Far from the tide-pronged shore, its music falls
In lusty cadence on the inward ear of lupin
And of poppy, whispering to their oblivion, of gold
And purple conquest down the mountain-side—
Of easy victory in the dark ravines, when allied
To the tall brodiaea, they thrust their emerald swords
Against the wild-thorn and mesquite . . .*

tomorrow, and the miracle

*Of sun will draw the silver inlets from the hills,
And contour once again each crest and hollow—
The garish banners of the conquerors will spread in answer
To the prodding rain.*

Tomorrow, and arroyos full

*Of a thundering voice will hold the echo of a homeward
Song, and these veiled reefs go thirsting as before.*

—THIRZA MARTIN.

CHINOOK SQUAW

*She stands at sundown, there upon the mountain,
Where trail and highway cross . . . and gazes westward.
Upon her head, a patterned squaw-grass basket,
Bright-brimmed with scarlet berries, waxen-sparkling!
With dusty skirts, her moccasins dust-covered
From ash and pumice of volcanic ridges,
Where tourists pause to view the towering summit
She offers of the alpine season's fruitage:
Red huckleberries, from the snow-capped mountain.*

*Who buys her wares buys not alone red berries,
But breath of lupine from the sunning meadows,
The zest of breeze that stirs the drowsing pinon,
The cool and quiet of the sleeping canyon,
The eagle's vista in his silent soaring,
Enchantment of the cataract's white foaming!
Who barter for red berries gets full measure
Of stolid Indian pride and ancient custom! . . .
Who buys her wares buys not alone red berries.*

Days Before Yesterday

BY WHIT WELLMAN

Easy to forget . . . last week came the anniversary of V-E Day. Who remembers the historic "dry run" that set Carmel's coast by the ears that first Thursday after Pearl Harbor?

Five miles south operated Army Outpost D, a few boys who, by sheer chance, had located at Yankee Point Observation Post. Rolling up in trucks the night of December 8, Sergeant York and his outfit, a platoon from the 32nd Infantry, piled out and prepared to sleep in the rain. Our garage and back study were at least dry, and these they occupied.

Yankee Point had been activated, on receipt of an army wire, immediately after Pearl Harbor, as had some 1,500 other similar posts along the coast. Cliff Cook, John and Mary Burr, County Director of Posts Charles C. Shepard, and others had spent that first Sunday night staring toward the horizon. Before war's end some 300 Yankee Point volunteers had served from 100 to over 1,000 hours each at the lookout.

York's platoon gave a sense of security, being in touch with Fort Ord. Thursday, December 11, Sergeant York — a nephew of World War I's Sergeant Alvin York — answered the phone. He listened, and the easy smile vanished.

"Japanese fleet is reported 160 miles off San Francisco — alert your men—"

A truck roared along the blind road, dumped off sufficient ammunition to keep the platoon's rifles in action for a half hour . . . if the boys were sparing. (By this time our Mongolian husky, Colonel Chu, was frantic; our first thought was to find a rope so that he could be properly evacuated.) Within an hour close off shore a line of ships swept slowly south: it looked like 50 vessels, all lighted up like Christmas trees. Silent, ominous, they faded toward Pt. Sur Lighthouse. No military outfit had been warned: certainly not Outpost D. The platoon, and observers, sweated it out.

Finally, at midnight, Sergeant York called Fort Ord. He hung up. "Dry run. Someone's pulled a boner. That was a fishing fleet headed for San Diego to get guns aboard . . . we'll turn in." Relief was definite . . . an understatement. Against army rules, everyone had a drink. Everyone talked at once . . . where was the Jap fleet?

These were army boys who became men . . .

Isadore Ortiz: he later saw action on Attu, Leyte, a dozen other Pacific islands; wounded twice. Before he left he married Emma Bryan, friend of Judge Mary Bartleme; they have a baby girl . . . romance in the Highlands.

"Casanova" Lee Kane: nicknamed because he liked the girls and showed it; he was killed by a sniper on Attu. Lee used our ironing board to keep immaculate, our ice-box to keep fit. Confident, charming, few things disturbed him save his own desires. His mother ran the Beacon Cafe, at Perris, California. She always sent a Christmas card to Yankee Point . . .

George Manchester: for a year with Patton's Third Army; he had a girl in Oakland, is now married; George came through unharmed.

Vincent McGovern, a quiet, rather interesting boy; you seldom knew just what he was thinking. He came through.

Bill Waters: who played skillful poker; wounded in Africa, and at last reports in hospital at Camp Carson, Colorado. Intelligent, capable, everyone's friend.

Frank Tetro, Bible student; wounded in the South Pacific. Frank's Christmas cards were quotations from the Bible, and God help you if you failed of his esteem. Now married, and preaching The Word.

Sisto Huizar, from Los Angeles, who had—oddly enough—never before used a telephone. His recent bride called him from Carmel, got a taxi and came out . . . they spent the night together in the back study. There was no poker in the garage that evening, the platoon was un-

C. Edward Graves, Who Makes Hobby His Profession, Leaves Next Week To Photograph Zion, Brice, Grand Canyon

By ELIZABETH PICKERING

"Carmel has been creeping up on us ever since we first started visiting here in 1915," says C. Edward Graves, who is currently engaged in producing a series of color slides of outstanding scenery and natural history distributed under the name of "Colorful America."

Mr. Graves and his wife purchased a house up on Camino Del Monte just a year ago, following his retirement as librarian at Humboldt State College. "We have happily succumbed to the spell of the place," he says. "A photographer couldn't ask for a more beautiful spot in which to make his home and headquarters. I make trips to America's most scenic sections to get my pictures but I'm never let down when I come home to Carmel."

After a successful career as a librarian and educator, with photography as his hobby, Mr. Graves had the wisdom to make his real love his life work and in 1945 started devoting all his time to photography. The purpose of his "Colorful America" series is to perpetuate, in these 2x2 slides, the scenic areas of our country as they are today. No matter what rapid changes the future may bring, these slides will form a lasting record. The first original of each view goes to the Library of Congress Photographic Archive and an explanatory script and a journal kept during the filming is sent with each set.

"Interpretation of the mood and character of the region being photographed is as important for my purpose as technique and composition," the photographer states. "I have to be a mountaineer, naturalist and storyteller, as well as the man with the camera, if I am to accomplish what I want to do with these pictures."

"Already completed are sets of slides taken of Springtime in the Southern Desert country, Yosemite Valley and its Rim Country, the High Sierras, Sequoia National Park, Mount Shasta, California's Redwood Region, the Three Sister Ancient Volcanic Region of the Oregon Cascades, Lassen Volcanic National Park, Trees of the Sierra Nevada, and Flowers of the Sierra Nevada."

"I am leaving May 27 to spend at least two months making a record of the three national parks—Grand Canyon, Brice and Zion. I shall probably spend the month of August in Oregon and then home to Carmel."

Color film has been available for about ten years now and this appears in the March Issue of Library Journal. He has also done an article for the Pine Cone on the photogenic country south of Lobos and North of Little Sur which will appear in this paper shortly.

John P. Collins Wins Pine Cone Poetry Contest

tin has for some time been a contributor to our column.

The winners of the third prize have also been frequent contributors. The poem: Chinook Squaw by Blanche DeGood Lofton presents a clearly-defined picture, completely realized and vividly presented. The work of this Oregon poet is always sound and memorable. She sent in several other good poems, which we will publish from time to time. Eve Triem, also winner of a third prize for Nobody Dies in the Summer, was a contributor to our page years ago. We printed some of her early work and we are proud to say that she is now well-known to many of the better literary magazines in this country. Her poem is original and delightful, both in content and wording. It is a poem to remember.

We have awarded special mention to Poem for the Very Young by Amelia Snyder McIntyre because her work is so fine and contains so much excellent material that we feel it should be given particular attention. It is thoughtful and distinguished, and well worth a separate printing.

Those winning honorable mention are also frequent contributors to our poetry column. Kathryn Scoville and Amelia Snyder McIntyre are former prize winners.

As a whole, the standard of excellence this time was higher than in former years. A remarkable percentage of the poems are suitable for publication and will appear in our column from time to time. Many good poems were eliminated from the final grouping because of weak lines which could so easily have been avoided. The main fault noted by the judges was lack of condensation, wordiness and vagueness, in other words, lack of devotion. Much excellent content was spoiled by this faulty craftsmanship. Ideas for poems were not completely realized and made poems. But beyond this, there was an encouraging response to what Rainer Maria Rilke called that "great and eternal beauty throughout the world . . . scattered over the small things and the big." There was deep concern with the greater issues of life and much freshness and originality in the expression thereof.

The winning poems will be found in our poetry column this week, and next week.

About Real Estate

It is next to impossible to build a house at this time. That state of affairs will not last very long.

Out of the present confusion, in the comparatively near future will come the green light and the Monterey Peninsula will resound to the noise of hammer and saw.

The wise man will purchase his homesite now and lay his plans to build when conditions make it possible.

When building is possible there will be a mad scramble for land, and an even madder scramble for materials and for the people who can put them together.

OUR ADVICE TO THE PROSPECTIVE HOME BUILDER IS TO PROCEED IN AN ORDERLY MANNER:

1. ACQUIRE YOUR PROPERTY NOW.
2. PREPARE YOUR PLANS FOR BUILDING, and
3. WHEN IT IS REASONABLE AND POSSIBLE—AND IT WILL BE IN THE NEAR FUTURE—PROCEED WITH YOUR BUILDING.

as you say, I hope we shall see each other ten times as often, when we shall talk and dance and sing and send our hearers laughing to their beds."

And this on Garrick's retirement: Twickenham, June 23, 1776.

"Dear Sir:—Is it really true that you have put an end to the glory of Drury Lane Theatre? If it is so, let me congratulate my dear Mr. and Mrs. Garrick on their approaching happiness. I know what it will be; you cannot yet have an idea of it. But if you should still be so wicked as not to be satisfied with that unbounded, uncommon degree of fame you have received as an actor, and which no other actor ever did receive—nor no other actor can receive—I say, if you should still long to be dipping your fingers in the theatrical pudding (now without plums) you will be no Garrick for the Pivy.

"In the height of public admiration for you, when you were never mentioned with any other appellation but Mr. Garrick, the charming man, the fine fellow, the delightful creature, both by men and ladies; when they were admiring every thing you did and every thing you scribbled—at this very time the Pivy was a living witness that they did not know half your perfections. I have seen you with your magical hammer in your hand, endeavoring to beat your ideas into the heads of creatures who had none of their own. I have seen you with lamb-like patience endeavoring to make them comprehend you, and I have seen you when that could not be done. I have seen your lamb turned into a lion. By this your great labor and pains the public was entertained; they thought they all acted very fine—they did not see you pull the wires . . .

"I have always said this to everybody, even when your horses and mine were in their highest prancing. While I was under your control I did not say half the fine things I thought of you . . . I thought you did not like me then, but now I am sure you do—which made me send this letter."

And this is the comment of Mr. Percy Fitzgerald:

"She took the opportunity to unfold to him in characteristic style what, perhaps, he never suspected before, viz.: that through all their bickerings it was not dislike nor disdain that was at work; it was her pride that would not bend to own his superiority and many good qualities . . . We have smiled at her rude turns and sad spelling,

Good Advice in Greeley's Time
BETTER STILL TODAY!

If Horace Greeley could look down upon the Northern California of today he would be content—his faith and vision of nearly a century ago justified a thousand-fold.

And as he saw then the unlimited possibilities offered by the undeveloped West, the canny old editor would find here today new promise of rich reward for American enterprise.

Northern California is rapidly coming of age industrially. We have the raw materials, the power, the fuel. We have skilled labor and an ever-increasing population. We have markets close-by and overseas. We have a war-tested transportation system to serve these markets.

Business and industrial men of the East are watching and studying our growth here. It was to keep this interest alive, to stimulate action, to attract new business and industry to this area, that your gas and electric company has carried an extensive advertising campaign to sell Northern California to the Nation. It has been a factual, constructive and cooperative effort in the interest of all Northern California communities.

John Doe, which isn't his name, wrote a bad check, left Carmel, and then had an attack of conscience. The following letter with, an inclosure of a money order, was received by Chief of Police Roy Frates last week.

May 8, 1946.

Chief of Police,
Carmel, Calif.,
Dear Sir:

Enclosed you will find a ten dollar money order which I would like to have you take to the Lucky Boy Market and find out if they have a ten dollar check on hand marked no funds or whatever it may be.

This check was written some time ago and feel that you are the only person that can take care of this for me, and give me the relief of knowing it has been properly taken care of.

Carmel is a very clean respectable place. I know as it was my home once and far be it from me to be one who should leave a blemish on it or with it.

I am Yours Truly,
P.S. I thank you in advance for your attention given this matter. I would like to have the check returned to me as addressed above, please.

Box 288, Carmel,
May 6, 1946.

Carmel Pine Cone,
Carmel, California.

As I walked up Fourth avenue to the Post Office the other evening, I heard the unmistakable notes of a russet-backed thrush.

First, his liquid call, "hwhit", then a soft, high "whee", followed by lovely chuckling notes, uttered several times. The prelude over, this lovely brown sprite of the woods burst into song, beginning his offering on rich, full notes and going up the scale in an incomparable diminuendo, the final notes trailing off with exquisite delicacy.

This evening, May 5, taking the same walk, I found that three of these lovely songsters were singing—all within a block! Stopping, on N. Camino, I whistled to one of the singers. Presently, he flew to an oak, twenty feet away, and sang his refreshing song several times before a passing auto disturbed him.

The singer then retired to a more distant tree to continue his contribution to one's enjoyment of the loveliness of Carmel.

Cordially yours,
Angelo Hewetson.

A PICNIC

One day I went to the beach with my mother, father, brother and sister. We had a very nice time. We went swimming and it was fun. After this we had lunch. Then we played on the beach for awhile before we got ready to go home. —Bill Graham, 2nd grade.

THE CANARY

Every day after school when I get home Pete sings to me. You see, Pete is a pretty canary, and I like him very much. Pete likes to sing to Pat, who owns him. I feed Pat every day after school about 3:30. I help Pat too.

—June Bracisco, 2nd grade.

A little boy was bad and he had to sit in the corner. After a while he was good and got a prize. This made him very happy.

Bobby Graham, 2nd grade.

THE SAD AND HAPPY BOY

One day a boy threw a rock at Bob. The Sister saw Jim. So Sister said, "You have to sit in the corner." Jim cried and cried. Bob was laughing. Soon school was out but Jim had to stay after school.

Your Judgment Will Tell You...
THIS BUILDING HAS WHAT YOU NEED!

THE STRAN-STEEL "Quonset 40"

We'll tell you what this famous "Quonset 40" has to offer, and let you decide whether it "has what it takes" to increase the value, productivity and efficiency of your farm operations.

SPACE

The "Quonset 40" is 40 feet wide and as long as you want it—40'x40', 40'x60', 40'x80', 40'x100' and so forth. Interior is clear-span, so that every inch of space is usable.

LOW COST

The "Quonset 40" is the first high-quality steel building to be made available at low cost. This is made possible by the unmatched efficiency of the Stran-Steel framing system, with its nailing groove that permits siding and roofing to be nailed directly to the framing members.

DURABILITY

The "Quonset 40" is framed with steel and covered with steel to give you the sturdiest, most durable building ever produced for the farm. It is fire-safe, sag-proof, rot-proof, warp-proof—strong with the uniform strength of steel.

PROVED IN USE

Tens of thousands of "Quonsets" have been produced by Great Lakes Steel Corporation to meet the needs of the armed forces in all climates.

"Quonset 20"

Here are the same features and advantages as in the "Quonset 40" in a smaller building—20' wide and as long as you want it. Framed with durable Stran-Steel.

"Quonset 24"

This adaptable, 24'-wide building is available with open side—with sliding doors—or with solid side panels. It provides an ideal building for many farm uses.

Peter Mawdsley, Jr., Engaged

Mrs. Peter Mawdsley and her daughter, Audrey, were guests last Saturday in San Francisco at a luncheon given at the Hotel St. Francis, when announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Virginia Gertrude Minder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Minder of San Marino, California, to Peter C. Mawdsley, son of City Clerk and Mrs. Peter Mawdsley of Carmel.

The luncheon, attended also by Mrs. Minder and the house mother from the University, was arranged as a surprise for a group of Miss Minder's college friends at U. C. in Berkeley. Announcement favors consisted of gold ribbons leading from the place cards to a center piece of blue and yellow Iris disclosing, as each was drawn, the betrothal cards enclosed in replicas of the solitaire diamond engagement ring. The hostess wore an orchid from her betrothed, and the guests had corsages of purple Spanish Iris, while the place cards were embossed with tiny natural rosebuds. After the luncheon the guests were entertained at a theatre party at The Curran to see "Roberta," which opened on May 6.

Miss Minder is a graduate of Huntington School and South Pasadena-San Marino High School. She is now attending the University of California and will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree in June, and intends to go on to Columbia for post graduate work. She and Peter Junior met during their first year at Davis in 1942 and Peter is just completing post graduate work there for the M. S.

VOTE FOR A VETERAN

Degree in Plant Physiology having majored in Agronomy. He is hoping to stay on at Davis under a research assignment at the College of Agriculture. So the young couple have not yet set a date for the wedding.

Peter was born in Carmel and has grown up with the Village from the year that saw Ocean Avenue paved. An academic career was indicated from the very beginning, and at his Christening at All Saints Church by the late Revd. Doctor Chinn, his Godfathers were a Master of Science of Oxford, and a Master of Arts of Cambridge. He attended Forest Hill School under the late Minna Steele Harper, and Sunset School under the late Superintendent Bardarson and Anne B. Uzzell.

At Monterey Union High he had the good fortune to be under instructors well known in Carmel, including Ellen J. Down, Glen W. Watson, Elise de C. Beaton and Gertrude Rendtorff, with the friendly guidance of Principal E. R. Morehead and the late Supt. Ronald J. McKillop. He took his lower Division work for the College of Agriculture at Salinas J. C. under Professors Lemos, (now President), McCallum, Robinson, Marble and others, and had the special guidance of President Richard J. Werner, who is himself an Agronomist.

He received his Admission in Advanced Standing to the College of Agriculture at Davis in 1942, transferring, when it was taken over for War use, to Berkeley in 1943, where he received the B. Sc. degree in 1944. He worked on the University Farm through the Summer and Fall and, with the reopening of Davis early in 1945, was able to register for post graduate work under the same Faculty members with whom he took his Upper Division work, and these are the Professors who have prepared him for his Master's degree.

From the time he entered High School, when Mr. Morehead wrote on his admission slip, "To go to College and graduate in Plant Physiology" he has had an unbroken course of study for the Agronomy Degree he is now taking, and is receiving the congratulation of a large number of friends and well wishers in Carmel who have followed his progress with friendly interest and encouragement.

Virginia and Peter are to be guests in Carmel the very first week-end they can break away from studies, though this may not be possible before Term ends.

Audrey and her mother had a very thrilling time for three days in the City and did everything from the Claremont to the Top of the Mark, and mother had a gorgeous corsage of roses from Peter for Mothers' Day.

Announce Engagement

Carmel friends of Miss Madge (Peggy) Saunders and John Short learned this week of their engagement and also of their plans for a quiet, simple wedding in the very near future.

Peggy, who has been a frequent visitor here, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Saunders of San Francisco and Berkeley. Mr. Saunders was, up to the time of his death, head of the School of Comparative Religions in Berkeley. His sister, Barbara, resides in San Francisco, and her brother, Tom, lives in Berkeley. She served as an officer with the Waves, and received her discharge last fall. Since then she has been connected with Navy relief work.

John is the son of Mrs. Marie Short of Carmel and the brother of Kraig, Bill and Eric Short. His father, Douglas Short, resides in San Francisco. He was released from service with the Army last fall and after spending a vacation here, has taken a position with the veteran's Democratic committee in San Francisco. While in the service, he was connected with Stars and Stripes in the Hawaiian Islands.

The two first met when they were 10 years old and were both attending the Peninsula School at Menlo Park and romance was the culmination of the long friendship.

Wedding date has not been set but it will be very soon, they say.

S. F. Visitor

Mrs. Arthur Barber of San Francisco has been the house guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Torres at their home in Carmel, Tranquil Pine.

Miss Martha Moller was in charge of refreshments and she was assisted by her mother, Mrs. G. A. Moller, in the preparation of the food. Mrs. Talbert Josselyn, mother of the young hostess, extended her usual charming hospitality to make the evening a success.

Those attending were Mrs. Elise Beaton, chairman of the sponsors, and the sponsors: Mrs. Mildred Riker, Mrs. Marquita Bray and Glenn Watson. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Harris were other faculty members present.

Students who attended were: Basil Allaire, Carol Baxter, Gayle Beller, Douglas Calley, George Childers, Joan and Sue Dekker, Rod Dewar, Pamela Dormody, Bonnie Fish, Martin Irwin, Martin Katz, Doris Lewis, Mary Lodmell, Joyce McKinstry, Martha Moller, Barbara Myler, Clayton Neill, Peggy Riker, Barbara Timmins, Roland van den Berg, Kathie von Meier, David Wilson and the hostess.

Merchant Marine cadet corps school at San Mateo, and will now be assigned to a merchant vessel for further training at sea. He will then be returned to this country for completion of his training and will be commissioned an ensign in the U. S. Maritime Service. He is the son of Mrs. Anthony O. Marino of Carmel.

He told the dinner group that his term in office had been marked by a non-partisan policy and he intends to conduct his campaign on a non-partisan basis.

In Washington, D. C.

She attended the P.E.O. convention at the Hilton Hotel in Long Beach for the first three days of her trip, and she was accompanied by Mrs. Murray Mathews and Mrs. George Paul, Pacific Grove members. After the convention ended, she visited her sister, Mrs. L. W. Bickle of Alhambra and other relatives.

Her husband, Edward Taylor, returned last week from a four months' trip to the middle west, visiting relatives in Colorado and Nebraska, and his home-town in Columbus, Ohio. Enroute, he learned of the death of his brother, S. J. Taylor, in Columbus and he took a plane for the rest of the journey to enable him to attend the funeral.

With Betty Helvenston

News . . . the column is full of it this week. You'll have to expect superlatives and exclamation points because it seems that every item really is brand new, a bargain, very special or the return of an old, long-absent favorite. Post-war days must be upon us!

French wines! . . . the GOURMET in the Pine Inn has received that expected shipment. Just mentioning a few of them should be a word to the wise and sufficient, I'm sure. Chateau Olivier, Mise en Bouteilles du Chateau, a white wine. Louis Eschenauer, Sauterne, from Bordeaux. French champagnes—Bollinger, Extra Quality, Brut, 1937; Perrier-Gouet and Co., Extra Dry Champagne from Epernay; Mumms, Golden Rouge, 1937. Sherries—Duff-Gordon, Amontillado, very pale and dry; Bellows, Club Dry Morning Sherry, pale with a tantalizing nutty flavor; Williams and Humbert, marvelous Dry Sack. All these are truly fine wines for the connoisseur. Honestly, the GOURMET is the most wonderful place . . . everything there is special and of the rarest and best. The delicacies in foods! . . . King Henry the VIII Whole Roast Chicken, two pounds net weight, a real banquet. Breast of Chicken too, 18 ounces. Pate Smoked Rainbow Trout, a welcome change for your palate. Smoked Oysters, whole and small. Romanoff Beluga Caviar. Something different for your cocktail hour, Koepfens Snapsies. For a surprise in tea, Boston Mint in Tea and, another treat for tea-drinkers, Bellows Choice Ceylon Tea. So many, many other things I would like to mention too. See what I mean? The GOURMET is wonderful!

MODELS AND HOBBIES . . . the new shop on 6th and Junipero, next to Plaza Fuel Co., is the answer to the modelmaker's dream! Here are just some of the things you'll find there: Model Railroads, brand new model kits for Sailing Vessels, Liberty Ships and Coast Guard Cutters, Wood Carving sets, Wood Burning sets and a small new paint spray that operates from an inflated auto tire. Clever? Efficient, too! And Flash! A complete line of accessories for gas jobs! . . . Attention, Home Planners: The new "Plan A Home" kit is not a toy but an accurately-scaled kit for planning your future home exactly as you want it—and then making a model of it—with directions so clear a child could follow them . . . For the angler the "Bait-Making Kit" is terrific! All the things you need to make your own flies . . . If you have stringed instruments to repair or clean, bring them in for approximately 48-hour service. Watch Carmel Hardware for MODELS AND HOBBIES displays. Give this swell new shop a look-see or phone 436-W.

Nine different kinds of Scotch! . . . It's headline news for a bar to have that many these days but I saw them myself at SADE'S . . . superior brands too, as are the rest of the liquors served. That's just one example of the genius in getting the best for its customers that goes on behind the scenes at this establishment. Travelers, celebrities, people who know their way around, soon discover SADE'S when visiting Carmel. When I dropped in just the other night, the place looked like a Hollywood premier . . . so many movie Big Names, we, "natives," applaud their good judgement rather smugly for this is one spot that is really for our own. Year's ago we adopted SADE'S as our own special rendezvous for fine food and drinks. "When good fellows get together," it's at SADE'S.

THE CLOISTER ROOM . . . the new dining room in the Hotel La

Ribera . . . your hosts, Harold and Mariam Brown, remind you that it is open to the public for breakfast, lunch and dinner. They are charming people and the whole atmosphere of THE CLOISTER ROOM is unusually pleasant. Try the featured dish, Spaghetti with famous Sauce Brownie, Green Salad and Coffee . . . Eat all you want! Your chef, Raymond Garcia was at the Hotel Del Monte for twenty-four years so you can imagine what an artist he is in the kitchen. He invites you to visit his domain or consult him regarding breakfasts, lunches or dinners for any special occasion. THE CLOISTER ROOM invites party, club and banquet reservations but don't forget to just stop in for a informal meal soon.

Artist's supplies . . . the PIONEER, just across the street from the Carmel Art Association Galleries, has just put in a brand new stock for the artist. Two lines of oils and water colors—Devoe (student grade) and Winsor and Newton—including some Zinc White and Flake White oils which are like nylons to the artist! Brushes, watercolor tins in which to make up sets, canvas, Canvo blocks and boards in all sizes, water color blocks and some 100% pure rag—135 pound—water color paper in sheets, pastel paper, student grade paper, show card colors, easels, X-acto Art and Handicraft Tools . . . as complete a stock of all these items as is possible today. Mr. Hardy at the PIONEER wants artists to know that all they have to do is come in and tell him what they want and, if he hasn't got it, he'll add it to his list and try to get it for them.

California Petalware . . . each piece shaped like an exotic-petal flower, is something new under the sun . . . brilliant and delicate. At the CYNTHIAN on Dolores you'll see them . . . cups and saucers, luncheon plates, bread and butters, cocktail cups, cream and sugars, salad bowls, vegetable and relish dishes and salts and peppers. There are cigarette holders, ashtrays, candlesticks and exquisite flower bowls, too. Fired almost to the degree of china, California Petalware comes in turquoise, the glaze subtly flecked with cerulean, alizarin crimson and chartreuse . . . or in rose, just as beautiful. Combined into sets or used individually, these lovely things in open stock at the CYNTHIAN will make any luncheon memorable—any table unforgettable.

Cultured pearls . . . MERLE'S TREASURE CHEST has them again in its collection of very rare jewelry. They were not with us during the war and it is breathtaking to see once more the subtle, flattering elegance of truly fine cultured pearls. Strands of pearls in necklaces and bracelets to complement your throat and wrists. Earrings, note one clever pair designed to be used also as clips. Glowing pearl rings. Distinctive pins, one especially beautiful of gold leaf with pearls in the center, another of amethyst and pearls. MERLE'S is rightfully proud of its selection of antique pins. Very much worth seeing.

Radio repairs . . . and think of it . . . 1-day service with prompt pickup and delivery! Alton W. Jones of PENINSULA RADIO AND APPLIANCE CENTER, 287 Del Monte Avenue, Monterey promises just that. All radio service by Federal Communications Commission personnel . . . Complete assortment of good standard tubes available, especially top-grade RCA tubes . . . Small traffic appliances in stock occasionally: coffee makers, heaters, clocks and shavers . . . If you have a boy who is interested in assembling an Easy Built Crystal Set you'll find them here, complete with diagram, parts and instructions. The PENINSULA RADIO AND APPLIANCE CENTER'S number is Monterey—9645. Give Mr. Jones a ring!

Bargain! . . . at FORTIER'S DRUG STORE in Dorothy Gray's Hot Weather Cologne. For a limited time the large ten ounce bottle for one dollar which is just half the regular price. In spite of the name, you won't want to wait for hot weather to use this cooling cologne. Imagine coming home all tired and worn and being able to give yourself a real after-the-bath-lift by dousing yourself in fragrance with a lavish hand. That's the way cologne is meant to be used and this big bottle at this special price will let you do it with no qualms of conscience. Try it in Jasmin Bouquet—sweet and haunting . . . Snowflower Bouquet—fresh as the morning . . . Sweet Spice—crisp and tangy . . . June Bouquet—young, springlike, flirtatious. This is a truly wonderful buy . . . at FORTIER'S on Ocean.

Dinner music . . . soft and relaxing . . . as a background to your meal at the CASA MUNRAS HOTEL AND COTTAGES in Monterey. No bother with a juke box here for there is a newly-selected collection of records that are played for your enjoyment by the management. Strauss waltzes, haunting Gypsy strains, sweet organ music, Beethoven piano numbers . . . carefully chosen to provide the perfect atmosphere for your dining. CASA MUNRAS, with its historic charm, caters to your pleasure in every possible way.

Early Clearance of every straw hat . . . at THE CINDERELLA SHOP on Ocean. Imagine! With practically the whole straw season still ahead, you can't miss these wonderful values whether you plan to stay at home or go a-journeing. Two groups . . . Dressy little hats for suits, town, country or travel . . . these are Milgrim straws in white, colors, browns, black and navy, some with veils—some without. Just half price for this group, which includes big brims, small tailored models, multicolored and popcorn straws, smart-conservative hats to enhance a more dignified mood . . . The second group is just as wonderful . . . Knox straws, originally $8.95 to $16.95 will sell for $5.00! Large rough straws with wide, upturned brims—la Conga—with cord or printed scarf trim. Small bonnet straws. White, natural, cocoa burnt, and dark shades. You'll want them all! Such marvelous values at THE CINDERELLA SHOP.

Spun Nylon Anklets . . . in luscious colors of maize, pink, poudre blue, champagne, seaweed green and marine grey, sizes 9 to 10½. Something new at PUTNAM & RAGGETT on Ocean. They are knit as if by hand and fashioned without foot seams. You'll love the comfort they give you as they cushion the shock of hard pavements . . . Girls like their bulky, wooly-like texture. Laundering perfectly, without shrinking or shredding, these smooth-fitting anklets will make a glamorous addition to your wardrobe. See them and you'll buy them . . . at PUTNAM & RAGGETT.

Reopening of the CARMEL DELICATESSEN . . . with tables and three times the former seating capacity. During the short time it was closed, things have happened worth finding out about as they are all to your advantage . . . tables for your comfort and now dinners will be served as well as the famous lunches. Fresh-from-the-oven hot breads will be one of the dinner features. The SNACK BAR will be open from ten until seven. THE CARMEL DELICATESSEN specialty is, of course, pastries. Who could forget those flakey, tempting little pies that top off any meal with a high note? Just like mother's or maybe even better. Home-made candies again too . . . need I say more?

Parchment lampshades . . . they've been so scarce and the H. L. FRISBIE FURNITURE STORE on Dolores has a beautiful selection. They are in sizes from eight to twenty inches. The designs are varied and lovely . . . Chinese motifs, English, French, and American pictorial scenes, many floral designs and some hunting patterns suitable for a man's room or study. They really look like paintings when the light is shining through them. Wall brackets at FRISBIE'S too . . . in mahogany with mirrored backs to reflect your flowers and knickknacks . . . Charming little gilt brackets for the more formal room. Be sure to stop in and see the French color etchings by Simone now on display at FRISBIE'S . . . attractive and different, authentic and expressive of your own good taste.

Rytex stationery is here again! . . . at SPENCER'S HOUSE OF CARDS on Ocean . . . and at the same old price! It's still only $1.25 for fifty sheets and fifty envelopes with your name and address printed on both the sheets and envelopes. Rytex Deckle Edge Vellum is available in white and Rytex Flight and Bond, which can be used for either Air Mail or ordinary correspondence, is in white or blue. This has always been a popular writing paper and is just in stock again after too long an absence. It's known as the "Write Paper" and it certainly is just that, as old users well know.

Looking ahead . . . now that Mother's Day is all taken care of, there is just time, if you act promptly, to make Father feel like the Man of the Year with a beautiful camera portrait of yourself by MURL OGDEN. Everyone familiar with the work done by Mr. Ogden in his studio on Ocean, knows that he is an artist with the camera. No other gift could make Father feel that he has had such special thought and attention from you. Surely, he deserves a lasting reminder of your love and admiration. Make an appointment with MURL OGDEN now.

La gringita . . . the darling little dress with all its original Mexican charm but made especially for "foreigners," smart North Americans, in other words. At the SAVO GARRET SHOP, just above the heart-shaped sign at Monte Verde and Ocean, these dresses are in white wash material with binding, rickrack, and lovely, permanent, handpainted SAVO flowers scattered on blouse and skirt in blue, rose or gold. Flattering low, round necks, puffed sleeves. The skirts tie in back. They are bewitching.

More news, SENAC'S is open and is featuring complete dinners . . . It was formerly the Carmel Dairy Fountain but John Senae has just taken over the management and brought with him from Los Angeles, the chef who has been with him there for eleven years. The seating capacity has been enlarged and the specials right now are Abalone Steak and Fried Chicken. All the food is definitely good. SENAC'S will be open every day except Mondays for the present. Try them for dinner or a snack . . . you won't be sorry.

Pine Needles...

Doyle-Mahoney Wedding

Alice Phelan Doyle and Lt. William Patrick Mahoney were married yesterday morning at 10:30 at Santa Clara, and many friends of the young couple from this area attended the lovely ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mrs. Gladys Sullivan Doyle and of Richard Doyle. Her grandfather was the late Senator James J. Phelan.

Her sister, Miss Brenda Doyle was maid of honor, while Miss Sheila and Miss Rosaleen Doyle were bridesmaids.

The groom, who is now on terminal leave from the navy, returned to this country recently from Tokyo, where he was a prosecuting attorney at the war crime trials there. He has accepted a post as assistant district attorney in Phoenix, Arizona, and the couple will make their home there.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Montalvo, the estate of the late Senator Phelan and was attended by hundreds of guests. The couple left for a motor trip honeymoon through the Northwest and Canada.

Among those who attended from Carmel were Noel Sullivan, uncle of the bride, Lee Crowe, Mrs. Marie Short, Kraig and Eric Short, Miss Ellen O'Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Jeffers, Rachel Morton, Ann Barrows, and many others.

Stegner To Lecture

Wallace Stegner, author of One Nation, eminent lecturer and professor at Stanford University, will speak before the Inter-Racial Council of the Monterey Peninsula on the evening of May 23 in the council chambers in the Few Memorial Hall, Monterey. His subject will be The Unaccepted, America's Racial Minorities. The meeting is open to the public.

In Top Quarter

Douglas Calley, son of Ernest Calley, Sr., and Doris Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Lewis, Sr., have placed among the highest quarter of the superior group tested for Pepsicola scholarship. Both are senior students at Carmel High School, one of the 187 schools in the state that entered students in the scholarship examinations. Four took the examinations at Carmel high school. Final decision of whom out of those placing in the first quarter will receive the scholarship rests with the National Scholarship Committee.

Announce Marriage Plans

Joyce Uzzell, daughter of Mrs. Anne Uzzell, and Hugh Evans, son of Mrs. Emma Evans, announced their engagement to a small group of friends last Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride-to-be's mother. The young couple will be married in June, and following the ceremony they both plan to go back to school in the fall.

Hugh has recently been released from the Army Air Corps, where he made a distinguished record for himself for missions over Europe. He was awarded the DFC and the Air Medal with Oak Leaf clusters, as well as citations for his unit.

Miss Uzzell was released from the Waves last fall. She is a graduate of Monterey high school, Sunset school, and San Jose State College. She is now teaching fourth grade at Sunset school.

Week End Guests

Miss Aileen McGee of Carmel entertained as week end guests, Major Harcourt Bull and his bride. Major Bull was captured on Corregidor and was imprisoned in Japan during the war.

Marries In N. Y.

It was a New York marriage this week for Miss Barbara Sutro and Lt. Cmdr. James E. Ziegler. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Oscar Sutro of San Francisco. She has spent summers here for many years and has numerous friends in Carmel.

Visits Mission

F. M. McCall, San Francisco attorney, who as a law student was associated with one of Carmel's founders, Frank Powers, was a guest at one of the local hotels over the week end and a visitor at the Mission where he expressed his interest in the restoration program underway. He also looked up Fred Bechdolt during his visit here.

LEE WINSLOW TOP MAN

Lee Winslow became all C.C.A.L. champ of the tennis singles when he defeated Everett Messinger of Monterey, 6-3, 6-4. Winslow earlier shut out P. G. and Salinas net stars to win the finals in Salinas.

HEFFELFINGER, WHITING WIN RAIN-CHECK

Frank T. Heffelfinger and Colonel G. W. C. Whiting were the winners of the Cypress Point Club Rain-Check point-par golf tournament last Saturday, with a total of 48 points.

Mr. Heffelfinger played practically the entire round with one club, a brassie, even putting with it, and incidentally, dropping some mighty long ones. He used another club only twice, a lofted iron over traps. He came to the Monterey Peninsula on his annual visit in March, and was victorious in the first Rain-Check in which he played. Mr. Heffelfinger left for his home in Minneapolis, Minnesota, Monday, and thus also handily won the last tournament he will enter here this year. His 95 with a handicap of 22 and Colonel Whiting's 89 with 16 handicap mastered the field.

Second were Miss Jerry Shephard and Edward Fitzgerald, 45 points, while Downey Orrick and Harry C. Hunt were in third place with 43 markers.

Other contestants were: Charles M. Daniels and Dr. Charles Crocker, 42; Mrs. Jane Hunt and C. Pardee Erdman, 41; Samuel F. B. Horse and Harrison Godwin, 40; Stuart Haldorn and Walter E. Egan, 36; William Hudson and Francis Shea, 28; Dr. J. Lineer and Commander Blackford, no return; Mrs. Frances Elkins and John Morse, no return.

Movie Star Clark Gable played the Cypress Point Course Saturday morning, but was unable to enter the Rain-Check as he had originally planned.

cisco Thursday to get the lights. Saturday, with the help of a crane donated by M. J. Murphy and operated by Byron Pryor, who gave his time, the club set the poles. J. R. Belvail worked without compensation all day Saturday and Sunday to string the wires and install the lights. Teddy Crouch made the switch box, and Sunday night, at dusk, the team switched on the lights and kids started streaming for the field, as they have been doing every night this week.

There is still a wire backstop to be made, and Ralph Torras will donate the labor on the welding job.

Tuesday night the team started a series of Tuesday and Friday night practice games with Monterey teams, at 8:15 p. m.

Board Regrets McClain, Doerr Resignations

The regular meeting of the board of trustees of Carmel School District was highlighted by the resignation of two of the most popular and qualified members of the staff. Letters of resignation were received from Frank L. McClain, Vice Principal of Carmel High School, and Robert Doerr, the Seventh Grade teacher. The letters were received by the board with much regret but were finally accepted. Mrs. Anna Kohner, Sunset School teacher, was granted a one year leave of absence due to illness. Also on the list of resignations is R. McDermald, custodian, who will be replaced by Arthur Northcutt, who is a World War II veteran.

Hazel Watrous and F. B. Dixon of the Carmel Music Society were present and announced that the Bach B Minor Mass will be held in the Sunset School Auditorium this year, due to the fact that the Carmel Mission will no longer be available. It was requested by the Music society to improve the ceiling of the Sunset School Stage in order to correct faulty acoustics in the auditorium. The cost of the repair will be discussed between Mrs. Anita Dormody, of the Board of Trustees, and the Carmel Music Society. The Bach Festival opens July 22 to conclude on July 28.

Improvements and equipment for the school grounds were discussed. They include a new mowing machine, new fences on the high school grounds and additional bleachers in the gymnasium. Mrs. Dormody suggested that improvements could be made on the Sunset School grounds by the planting of flowers along the school yard fence. However, some doubt was raised concerning this suggestion due to the fact that there might not be sufficient help available to give them proper care.

New contracts have been awarded to Dorothy Wright, who will take over the position of Girls' Vice Principal, Edmond Harget, who will take Mr. Doerr's place and Orville Rogers who will take over the sixth grade at Sunset. Dorothy Wright has recently been discharged from the Marines and has a very fine teaching background, which should make her well qualified for position of Girls' Vice Principal, Superintendent Harris said.

VISITS BROTHER

Mrs. Edward Currier of Portland was here for several days this week visiting with her brother J. H. Praeger.

Carmel Teachers To Pass Petition For State Amendment

Arthur Hull, Sunset Principal, said.

He pointed out that many teachers who left the profession during the war for industrial jobs are not returning, that there has been a falling off in the enrollment at teachers' colleges, and that returned service men are not going back to teaching. Better pay would relieve the teacher shortage.

Another feature of the proposed amendment is a provision for state financial aid for kindergartens in the school system, and a guarantee of $120 state support per pupil, $90 per pupil for school, the rest to the county for supervision and special classes for the handicapped.

Jitney Dance At Sunset Auditorium

A Jitney dance will be given on Sunset Auditorium stage Friday, May 24, 9 to 11:30 p. m. following the Variety Show, sponsored by the Carmel P.T.A.

As the dance is quite a novelty, students are planning their date for the event now. The popular price will be 5 cents a dance, or 25 cents for the evening.

Martin Artellan, with his accordion, will be the orchestra.

The Variety Show will begin at 8 p. m. and will have the same talent that performed in the afternoon for the younger children at the Carnival. Everybody is welcome to join in the dancing as well as attend the show.

San Francisco Bay was declared a port of entry by Governor Pablo Vicente de Sola in 1835.

The Farallon Islands, 32 miles off the Golden Gate, have been a part of the City and County of San Francisco since 1872.
